CPGP Questionnaire #6. Academic Information

(*) Indicates the question is required.

Please list the courses you propose to offer on the program. On Cal Poly Global Programs, all students on the program are required to take all of the courses offered on the program. For each course, please include the following information:

- Course Prefix, Number, and Title (e.g., WLC-310 Humanities in World Cultures)
- Number of credit units (CUs) & number of weighted teaching units (WTUs)
- Number of minimum required contact hours for each class (e.g., most 4-unit Lecture courses require 40 contact hours)
- GE area and/or Major/Minor requirement course satisfies at Cal Poly (including any pre-approved Major/Minor course substitutions)
- Catalog description (official)

IMPORTANT NOTES:

- If a course is from a department other than your own, attach an approval memo you have obtained from the appropriate department chair permitting you to teach the course on the proposed program. Attach your supporting documentation in the Optional Uploads section.
- If there are multiple Faculty Leaders, indicate which faculty will teach (or co-teach) each course.
- If more than one section of a course will be offered, indicate how many sections are needed (include the min/max group size of each section). Indicate if a course and/or course subtopic does not yet appear in the catalog.
- Indicate if any of the courses will be taught or co-taught by faculty from a local host institution. Note that local instructors will be required to provide a CV, syllabus, and letter of support from the pertinent Cal Poly department chair. Specify the Cal Poly faculty member who will serve as the instructor of record for any courses taught by local instructors (you can volunteer to do this, or in some cases the chair of the course-offering department can be asked to volunteer for this role).

What is the anticipated class meeting schedule for your proposed courses (what days/times will each class meet)? For approximately how many hours will each class meet per week?

CPGP Signature Document #1. CPGP Faculty Handbook

Please review the CPGP Faculty Handbook. After you have read this resource, please direct any questions to the Global Programs staff at the Cal Poly International Center.

Please sign below electronically to indicate that you have read this resource.

Thank you.

CPGP Signature Document #2. International Group Leader Agreement

International Group Leader AGREEMENT

The planning and preparation involved in implementing an international program through Cal Poly (either a Cal Poly Global Program or an International Group Trip) is a detailed and time-sensitive process for both the Program Leaders and for the staff members in the International Center. Prior to departure, the International Center informs Group Leaders of the resources available to them for conducting and leading a successful Cal Poly program abroad. Faculty and staff leading groups abroad must review the referenced documents, participate in a workshop on leading groups abroad, and complete this Agreement. The agreement was developed to provide transparency in the roles and expectations of the international Group Leader.

Key Policy and Procedural Agreements

I understand that, as a Group Leader for a Cal Poly international program, I am expected to:

1. Coordinate with the International Center staff and Service Provider staff all on-site logistics, and assume ultimate responsibility on-site for the execution of logistics.
2. Complete all of the Group Leader pre-departure requirements in a timely manner.
3. Attend a Group Leader Preparation Workshop offered by the International Center. Attendance must be on file before a Program Leader may depart for a program. Program approval is contingent upon completion of the Preparation Workshop and related online training. Group Leaders must attend a Workshop each year during which they are leading students abroad.
4. Lead or co-lead a Pre-Departure Orientation (or series of pre-departure meetings) and an Arrival Orientation for student participants to cover health and safety information (including known health and safety risks of the local environment; information on any required or recommended vaccinations; information from the State Department website; communication and emergency protocols; preventative measures against sexual assault, medical services and insurance abroad, etc.); expectations of conduct for students on Cal Poly programs and consequences of noncompliance; legal, environmental, political, cultural, and religious issues in the host country; and the responsibilities of participants on the proposed program.
5. Review and obtain necessary visas or residence permits, if required. Notify all travelers that they must have valid passports that will remain valid for at least 6 months (please review the specific requirements for your country/ies of destination) after the planned return date and that there are no stamps in passports that may present problems for the intended travel.
6. Supply the International Center with complete contact information while in country, as well as a detailed calendar of activities for the program. Understanding that the Group Leader is the main emergency responder 24/7, you must carry a cell phone for the duration of the program, and provide the International Center and student participants with that cell phone information as soon as it is available.
7. Complete the Travel Companion information for spouses/partners and any dependents (if applicable). Note that when traveling abroad, the Group Leader is responsible for students and should not be the primary care giver to friends or family members not associated with the Cal Poly program.
8. Follow the Cal Poly Global Health & Safety Plan in the event of a crisis (major or minor), including contacting International Center staff immediately in the event of student illness, hospitalization, or other serious incident. Review the self-guided Training Module on Crisis Prevention, Preparedness, and Response.
9. Submit an online Incident Report to the International Center for any incidents involving student disciplinary action; arrest of participant; any crime perpetrated against a participant, Group Leader, or on-site staff or on university property abroad; student illness (physical or mental) or injury to a participant; death of a participant; or any other major incident, immediately following the (initial) resolution of the incident.
10. Understand that my Group Leader eligibility is contingent upon satisfactory conduct standing and that my personnel records may be accessed and reviewed by Academic Personnel, Human Resources, or the Cal Poly International Center Director. Additionally, program approvals are contingent upon a review of my proposal, expertise and experience at the proposed destination, evaluations and other measures of success of international programs I have led previously, and ability to provide thorough and complete information in a timely manner. Group Leader duties may also require successfully passing a background check per CSU Coded Memorandum HR 2017-17. My eligibility to travel abroad with students may be revoked by CAL POLY at any time for failure to maintain and uphold good conduct standing or other provisions in this agreement.

11. Carry out the Group Leader duty to appropriately manage students traveling abroad as a group. Specific responsibilities include identifying and mitigating risks, organizing and accompanying program participants during program activities and excursions, ensuring that appropriate arrangements are in place, and responding to emergencies. Additionally, I affirm that as a Program Leader I will model good and appropriate behavior including, but not limited to, responsible alcohol consumption, full participation and attendance in activities and being present for the duration of the program, evincing intercultural sensitivity and respect, displaying appropriate boundaries with students, and providing a respectful and engaging environment for academic, cultural and personal learning for all.

Additionally for Cal Poly Global Program Faculty Leaders, I understand that I am expected to:

1. Follow the program's specific final budget as set after the program enrollment is finalized, and abide by Cal Poly and CSU financial and accounting rules in the administration of the program. Changes to the budget and additional expenditures are only allowed with the advance approval of the Director of the International Center.
2. Understand if the program is based on a Self-Support or Stateside model and therefore how I will be compensated, according to the details provided in the Program Development Guide. Comply with all of the policies and procedures including those outlined in the Faculty Handbook for Cal Poly Global Programs.
3. While abroad, submit weekly status reports via email to globalprograms@calpoly.edu. After the end of the program, submit a record of travel expenses (with receipts) to the International Center within 7 days, and a Post-Program Report within 30 days.

After submission of this Agreement, I will not alter my plans to lead this program except for an unforeseen and major personal or family emergency that makes my participation impossible (e.g., serious illness, death in the family, and similar crises).

By electronically signing this document, I am acknowledging my commitment to lead the proposed program. I am also indicating my agreement to all of the terms and policies noted above.
